

FINAL THESIS

Request for closed access of a final thesis submitted to Skemman repository and/or at Reykjavik University Library

Year on title page

2017

Name of author/authors, ID number:

Lauren Elizabeth Hillis 191192-4199

Thesis title:

Feasibility of supercritical CO₂ Coaxial Heat Exchanger Geothermal well conversion with E-CO₂ Technology

Name of supervisor:

Maria Sigríður Guðjónsdóttir, Sverrir Þórhallsson, Joseph Scherer

All final undergraduate, master and doctoral thesis must be preserved electronically in the repository Skemman and should be open for reading in accordance with RU policy on open access, approved by RU Executive Council 13th of November 2014.

Final theses of PhD students submitted in print must also be open for reading in the library.

Authors of final theses can request for access to be closed if it contains confidential information.

Author requests for access to be closed to a final thesis (whether in print at the library and/or on digital format in Skemman):

I hereby request that access to my final thesis be closed until (month/year): Forever

IF ACCESS TO THE THESIS IS TO BE CLOSED, THE REASON MUST BE SPECIFIED:

Confidential information (personal information, business information, information from collaborators, etc.).

Business idea (contains information/description of a product/idea/process method, which could be exploited commercially or is possibly eligible for patent protection).

The author intends to sell the thesis (access is closed for six months).

The thesis is a journal article/a collection of journal articles which the author intends to publish in a peer-reviewed journal.

APPROVED/Signed by department: J.A. Newson Date: 1/6/17