

One Collective Breath // Sameiginlegur andadráttur

Performance information:

'One Collective Breath' is a new performance work that pays homage to the colourful world of Icelandic choral culture. Situated inside the 'Currently Unnamed Choir', you are intertwined with its members amidst a rehearsal unfolding. Through the highs and lows of learning a new song, what begins as an ordinary evening practice evolves into a living, expanding encounter with a composition. The work is a celebration of our simultaneous existence - exploring community, note by note - the moments we unconsciously share every time we breathe together. Like becoming entangled inside a piece of music, 'One Collective Breath' is an invitation to those who want to have their coffee and cake while singing about it too. Participation not required, but enthusiastically welcomed!

Location: LHÍ Tunglið: Austurstræti 22a. Reykjavík, Iceland.

Performance times:

Wednesday	26 th August 2020	1730-1845
Thursday	27 th August 2020	1730-1845
Friday	28 th August 2020	1730-1845

Composer and performer: Brett Smith

Performers:

Choir:
Kammerkór Suðurlands

Egill Gunnarsson
Guðjón Stefánsson
Hilmar Örn Agnarsson
Iveta Licha
Jónína Guðrún Kristinsdóttir
Örlygur Ben
Sigrun Steingrimsdóttir
Þorgerður Lilja Björnsdóttir
Þórdís Sævarsdóttir

Violin: Nína Solveig Andersen
Viola: Hafrún Birna Björnsdóttir
Cello: Hulda Kristín Hauksdóttir

Video documentation:

Trailer: <https://vimeo.com/lhisvidslistir>

To request access to full documentation, please contact: brett@brettsmithsound.com

Further documentation:

Pictures and additional footage: <http://www.brettsmithsound.com/onecollectivebreath>

To request access to musical scores please contact: brett@brettsmithsound.com